

SUSTAINABILITY THROUGH SMALL-SCALE COMMERCIAL FARMING

Quinisani Qwabe (Ph.D.)
University of the Free State

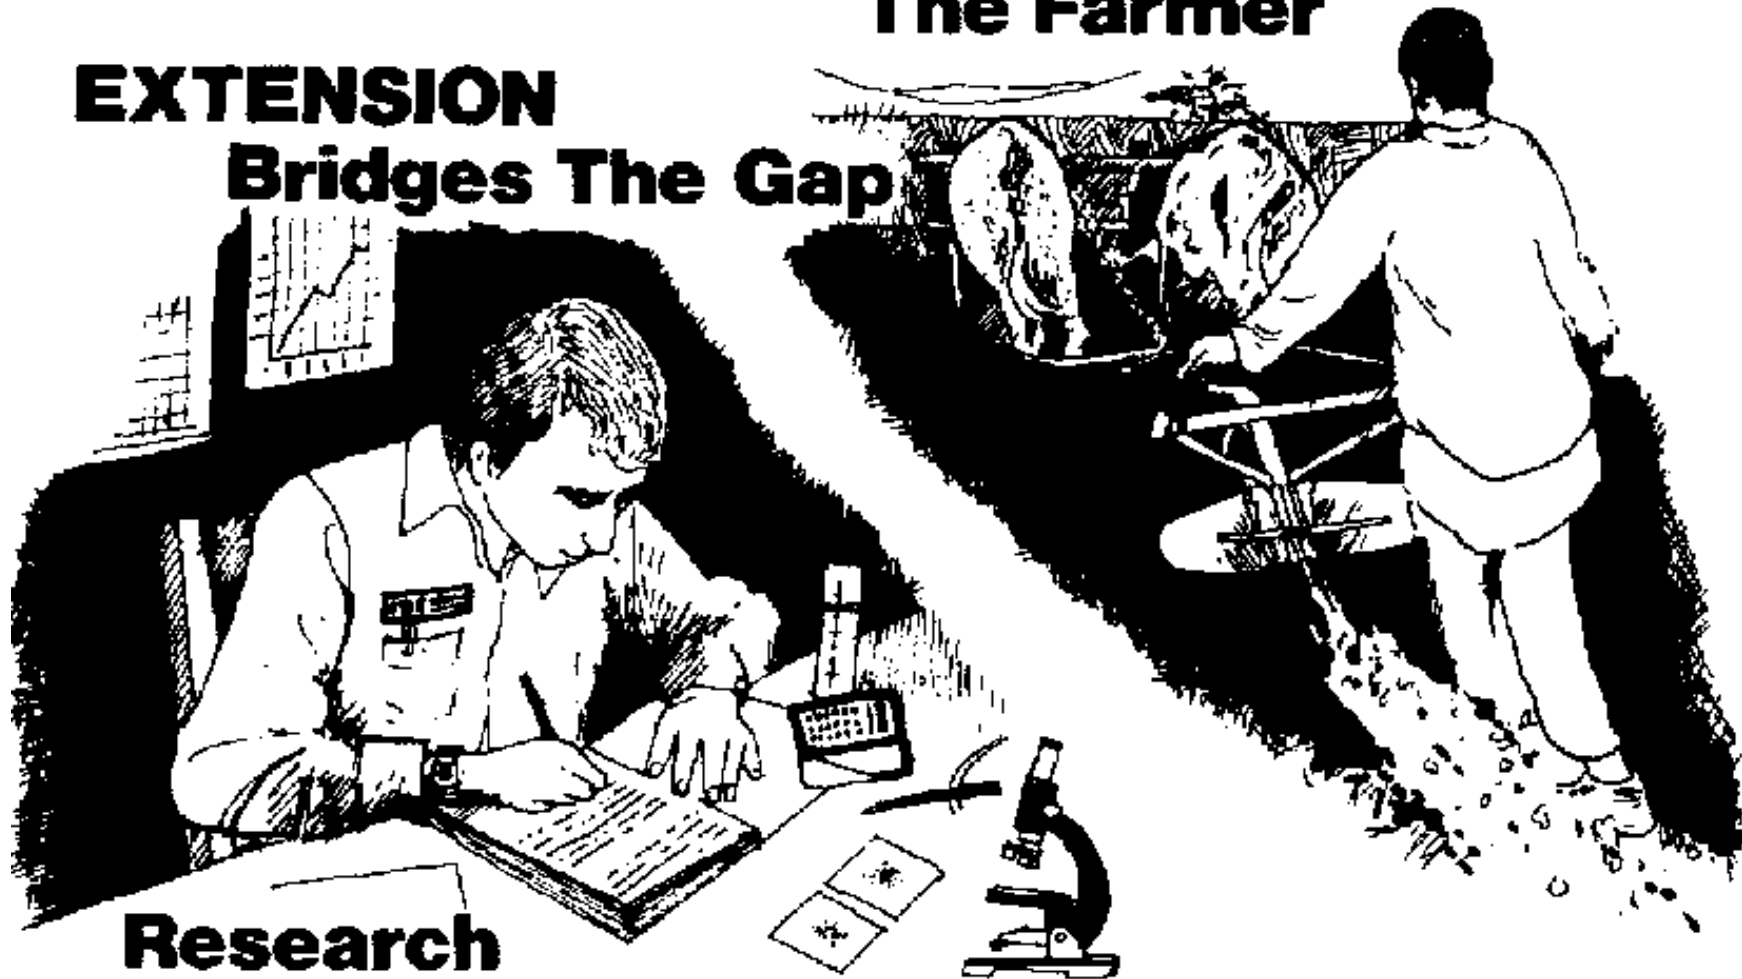

EXTENSION Bridges The Gap

The Farmer

Research

“Our plans and ideas within the agricultural fraternity are often confused by the concepts of ‘scale’ and ‘commercial’. This is an unintended notion that commercial farming can only be large and capital-intensive agriculture. However, the truth is that small farmers can be commercial at a relatively small scale.”

Johan Kirsten and Wandile Sihlobo (2019)

Black farmers plead: ‘Stop calling us emerging farmers’

Black farmers have always been here, and they carry a wealth of knowledge and potential that could help Mzansi's agriculture sector lead the Covid-19 recovery, argues farmer Sinelizwi Fakade

by Sinelizwi Fakade — 2nd Mar 2021 in Food for Thought

Reading Time: 5 mins read

AA

Building African Capacities for the Development of Clusters

Building African Capacities for the Development of Clusters

STATE OF THE NATION ADDRESS
SOUTH AFRICA 2022
REPLY

16 FEBRUARY 2022 | 14:00

Live on @PresidencyZA Platforms

#SONAReply • #SONA2022

LEAVENO

THANK YOU